CONFERENCE THEME

Philosophy as Translation and the Understanding of Other Cultures

Papers are invited for the 15th conference of the International Network of Philosophers of Education to be held from August 17-20, 2016, in Warsaw, Poland. The main theme of the conference is "Philosophy as Translation and the Understanding of Other Cultures", and philosophical papers reflecting on education in relation to the following sub-themes are welcome:

- Border crossing, immigrancy and home
- Global economies and global justice
- Translation, untranslatability and the (mis)understanding of other cultures
- The internationalization of higher education
- Policy borrowing and transfer
- Cosmopolitanism, patriotism and global citizenship
- Crossing philosophical divides
- Changing identities, personal and cultural

There will be three plenary sessions: the McLaughlin Lecture in honour of the late past President of INPE will be given by Morwenna Griffiths (Moray House, School of Education, University of Edinburgh, UK). The two other invited speakers are Kai Horsthemke (University of the Witwatersrand, South Africa) and Roger Amers (University of Hawaii, USA).

In addition, there will be 3 types of sessions for which contributions are invited:

1. Concurrent Paper Sessions

These will be organised around philosophical papers on one of the conference themes. Each session will allow sufficient time for discussion of a paper of up to 5000-6000 words in length. Submissions for concurrent paper sessions should include a full paper and a 500-word abstract.

2. Working Paper Sessions

The purpose of working paper sessions is to allow participants to present papers outlining 'work in progress'. Proposals for working paper sessions should be in the form of a 1000-2000 word abstract and will be grouped by topic or approach.

3. Round tables/symposia

Submissions may include proposals for round tables/symposia in which three or four participants will present related papers around a particular theme. Submissions should provide the symposium title and topic, an overall abstract of 200-300 words, the names of the participants and an outline of 100-200 words on each of the proposed contributions.

SUBMISSION OF PROPOSALS

Submissions should not include papers that have been published previously, presented at other conferences, or that are scheduled for other forthcoming conferences. All conference proposals – for any of the three types of sessions – should be sent to the Chair of the Programme Committee, Naoko Saito (see below) by: February 1st 2016. Proposals will be reviewed by the Conference Programme Committee. All authors are requested to identify under which sub-theme their contribution is submitted. Contributions should have a philosophical bearing on education or childrearing (examination of a philosophical issue in connection to education or childrearing; philosophical analysis of aspects of research, policy or practice regarding education or childrearing; etc.). The educational bearing should be rendered explicit in the text. Decisions will be announced by: March 15th 2016. Proposals are welcome from those who are not members of INPE. However, if accepted, presenters will be required to join INPE before April 15th 2016.

CONFERENCE LANGUAGE: English.

CONFERENCE SITE

Warsaw - city full of astonishing contrasts that never ceases to amaze - is located in the centre of Poland, on the Vistula river. There are two airports: one close to the centre of the city - Warsaw Chopin Airport and the other situated outside the city, about 40 minutes drive - Warsaw Modlin Airport.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The text of the papers accepted for concurrent and working paper sessions, and the abstracts of round table/symposia will be available to registered delegates online prior to the Conference. They will also be included in the conference proceedings, a copy of which will be available at the conference on a USB-stick (a limited number of hard copies will be available during the conference as well).

Papers of Concurrent Sessions will be considered for publication in Ethics and Education, the official journal of INPE. Provided there is enough good quality material a Special Issue will be published by this journal (2017, 1). Further details will be provided during the conference by the Programme Chair, who will be the Guest-Editor. Delegates presenting at the conference are expected to give Ethics and Education first choice to publish their contributions.
